

Appendix L.
Position Category Description
DLA Multifunction Management

Typical Duties: Perform direct management, supervision of staff, technical leadership, support of acquisition functions within the DLA. Supervise a multifunctional team to interpret and implement policy and procedures in support of the DoD acquisition process. The duties require an individual who is certified at the appropriate level in one of the acquisition career fields. The duties in this category are normally nonspecific as to acquisition function, requiring an individual with a broad acquisition background and perspective.

Typical Career Codes<sup>1</sup>

Civilian Series	Army AOC	Navy AQD	Air Force AFSC	Marine Corps MOS
1101, 301, and any other occupation. series	51, 53B, 53C, and 97	AV (Any AQD beginning with AV)	33SX, 62EX, 63 AX, 64PX, and 65WX	9958 and 9959

Representative Job Titles: Operations and technical assessment group leader, operations support manager, multifunctional team leader, customer service chief, materiel management chief, and supervisory commodity business specialist.

Qualification Standards: Mandatory: according to the level of the position, Level II or III certification in an acquisition career field relevant to the duties of the position. ACQ 201 also is mandatory. Desired: Cross-functional training and experience in other career field(s) related to the duties of the position; Level I and 11 core acquisition courses. Certification in more than one career field is desirable. Program management experience is not accrued when serving in this position category.

office Locations: DLA and its subordinate commands; other Components if similarly organized. If used by other Components this position category is called "Multifunction Management."

<sup>1</sup>Possession of one of these career codes does not necessarily mean inclusion in the acquisition workforce or the acquisition management career field.